What is the Net Impact Case Competition?
Hosted by the University of Colorado – Leeds School of Business Net Impact Chapter, the Net Impact Case Competition is the premier case format competition built around businesses facing sustainability challenges while succeeding financially.

This competition brings the top rated business schools and future industry leaders to Boulder, Colorado, for a two-day event. It is an opportunity to bring together students, executives and businesses who share a common commitment to sustainable business practices and financial returns. This year’s case sponsor is Encana Natural Gas, Inc.
